

LINGUISTICS POSTGRADUATE SYMPOSIUM

Thursday 14th November 2019, Napier Building

2019 is the International Year of Indigenous Languages. Linguistics students at the University of Adelaide would like to mark this by inviting fellow students, staff, researchers and interested others to join us in a Post Graduate Linguistics Symposium. We will be discussing a broad range of topics related to this theme from around the world. This will be a full day event with tea/coffee and a light lunch provided.

We look forward to an engaging and productive day - hope to see you there!
NB. Registrations essential for catering purposes.

2019 | INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF
Indigenous Languages

- | | |
|-------|--|
| 9:30 | Registration open – coffee |
| 9:55 | Welcome |
| 10:00 | Learning and teaching endangered languages
Eleanor McCall & Christina Skujins – Mobile Language Team |
| 10:45 | Kaurna and Cornish language revival
Susie Greenwood – University of Adelaide |
| 11:25 | Migrant indigenous languages in Adelaide
Necia Billingham – University of South Australia |
| 12:00 | Lunch |
| 12:30 | Phonological comparison of Thura-Yura languages
Ingrid Kerrigan – University of Adelaide |
| 1:10 | Hybridity in Daly River languages
Chris Venning – University of Adelaide |
| 1:50 | Southern Daly comparative project
Emmett Bell – University of Adelaide |
| 2:30 | Afternoon Tea |
| 2:45 | Polysemy vs Homonymy in Indigenous languages of Australia
Anh Le – University of Adelaide |
| 3:25 | Animal Language
Mario Pilla – University of Adelaide |
| 4:00 | Finish |

Paper programs available on the day for a gold coin donation. Contributions will go to CNCF, who plant trees for the planet!

Register online:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/adelaide-linguistics-post-graduate-symposium-tickets-74254241435>

You are welcome to join us for social drinks after the event

University of Adelaide Club (Level 4, Union House)